FSS SPOTLIGHT

Jun 2023

Ames A. Guidry

Community Readiness Consultant
Military & Family Readiness Center

What is your best memory at the M&FRC?

After facilitating a recent First Term Airman Center (FTAC), members approached me and said they were surprised to learn how easy it is to manage their financial resources and to depart Kunsan AB with money saved, a bigger Thrift Savings Plan (TSP) balance and being well prepared for their next assignment. It is a good feeling to know they will not spend every dime and I improved their financial resiliency.

What is your favorite part about working at the M&FRC?

I manage programs that influence the character, development, and behavior of service members. My collaboration with other agencies helps maximize resources, and provide members with current, relevant, and accurate information on various topics. Agency partners include but are not limited to base helping agencies, Department of Labor (DOL), Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), Department of Education (ED) and Small Business Administration (SBA).

What do you wish the Kunsan community knew about your programs?

The Transition Assistance Program (TAP) is designed to continually help improve service members outcome as they relate to employment, education, financial health, and general well-being. Legislation states TAP is mandated for all service members and will begin as soon as possible between 14-18 month before an anticipated separation or retirement date. Although 2023 is not a national election year, everyone should be familiar with voting registration. As the Personal Financial Manager, I can define how well you manage your money. In such case like a seriously injured or a casualty, I step into the role as the Casualty Assistance Representative (CAR) to provide support, guidance, and assistance to the next of kin.
